Baruch Backs Army A-Bomb Work

SCIENTISTS BLAMED FOR FORCING SMYTH REPORT PUBLICATION

ELDER STATESMAN TAKES MILITARY VIEW ON BIG QUESTION OF A-ENERGY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch asserted today that scientists had "lambasted" the army into making public the Smyth report, since criticized for its disclosure of atomic bomb secrets.

Appearing before the senate atomic committee considering President Truman's nominations for five members and a manager for the atomic control commission, the 76-year-old financier and statesman testified:

Army Criticism Hit.

1. That the army had been too much criticized.

2. That Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who had charge of the Manhattan project, had never received just praise in development of the bomb.

3. That Maj. Gen T. F. Farrell, (ret.) who was active in the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic project would be an ideal man for commission manager, a post to which the President nominated 36-year-old Carroll L. Wilson of Boston.

(The war department identified Gen. Farrell as Gen. Groves' deputy during the Manhattan project. He is now chief engineer of New York State.)

"Primarily Military Question."

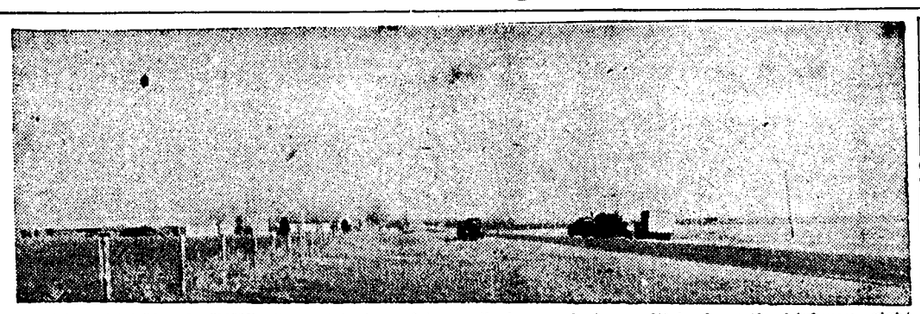

4. That atomic energy developments will remain primarily "a military question" until workable international controls are provided.

5. That he knows Herbert Marks, named for commission council and tabbed as a possible Communist sympathizer, must testify before another senate committee, as "a very able fellow" but knows nothing of his background.

6. That David E. Lilienthal, nominated for commission chairman, is "thoroughly qualified."

Baruch, cupping his hand to his ear to catch the questions of the senators, told committee members he thinks the public has gone too far "in criticizing military men—whom we call brass hats—for their handling of this problem."

"The army and navy are starved in peacetime and then suddnely we call on them to fight our wars," he said. "They do a magnificent job and then we turn around and criticize them."

TEXAS FREEZE IS FORECAST

By The Associated Press

Texans can expect freezing temperatures during the next 48 hours but unlike the January freeze, there is no indication of rain, sleet or snow.

The U. S. Weather Bureau today predicted that low temperatures tonight will be in the upper 20s but will drop even lower by Wednesday morning.

Last night's minimums ranged from 28 degrees at Salt Flats to the lower 50s along the Gulf Coast. Maximums yesterday ran from the middle 50's to a high of 70 at Brownsville.

Other low readings last night included Lubbock 34, Texarkana, Amarillo and Beaumont 36, San Antonio, Tyler and Houston 37, Pampa 38, Waco 40, Austin, Wichito Falls, Big Spring, Dallas and El Paso 41, Fort Worth 42, Abilene, Corpus Christi and Laredo 49, Galveston 50, and Beaumont 52.

HIGH COURT "SHOULD RECALL" PORTAL PAY RULING, SAYS SOLON

HOUSE SUBCOMMITTEE BEGINS HEARINGS ON MUCH DISPUTED SUITS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa) declared today that the supreme court "ought to recall" the case on which portal-to-portal pay suits have been based and "lay down a clear-cut yardstick" to follow in the issue.

The Pennsylvanian, speaking to a house judiciary subcommittee as it began hearings on the portal pay problem, said that the supreme court would be "derelict in its duty to the people generally" if it does not recall the case.

Walter said that it is possible that the "decision in the Mt. Clemens case has been misinterpreted by the court below."

He added that the "district court judge is leaning over backward to place an interpretation on the case the supreme court did not intend to place on it."

Walter drew from Milton A. Smith, assistant general counsel of Chamber of Commerce of the United States an expression of complete agreement.

Smith was the first witness before the subcommittee.

Declaring that portal pay suits now have passed the $5,000,000,000 mark, Smith said they pose a "major threat" to business and industry. Granting such claims, he said, would "bankrupt many firms and possibly entire segments of industry."

The subcommittee has before it two bills, one to forbid outright the maintenance of a portal pay suit in any court and the other to restrict court jurisdiction and forbid collection of portal pay for more than a year back.

HEARING CONTINUES

DETROIT, Feb. 3—(AP)—A small group of pottery workers were called back today to a federal court witness stand to give further testimony in an originally obscure overtime suit that touched off the now celebrated portal-to-portal pay issue.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, whose decision may have a profound effect on portal claims totaling $4,800,000,000 against American industry, said employes of the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co., would be the first witnesses.

ADMIRAL MARC A. MITSCHER

TRUMAN WOULD LIMIT AUTHORITY TO SOME "NEEDED" CONTROLS

SUGAR RATIONING, FEW OTHER ALLOCATIONS TO REMAIN UNDER REQUEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—President Truman today asked congress for "limited" extension of the second war powers act, including his authority to ration sugar and allocate scarce foods and a handful of materials.

Though he named only a few items, he left a big field for White House discretion by seeking the power to restrict other materials in case of "a national emergency that we do not now foresee"—such as a coal strike.

Pleading for "immediate and favorable" action on Capitol Hill, Mr. Truman asked a one-year extension beyond March 31 for three sections of the act. The major one, Title III, carries the sweeping power of priority and allocation and of export and import control.

Under it, Mr. Truman asked continued authority over these items:

Foods—Grain, sugar and related products; export and import control only over fats and oils; import controls only over meat, dairy and ment products, peas and beans, canned fish and protein foods.

Imported Materials—Rubber, tin, antimony, chinchona bark and alkaloids, Manila and agave fibre.

U. S. Products—Automobiles and tractors (quota limits on export); freight cars; the drug streptomycin.

No Inventory Control.

Mr. Truman did not ask extension of inventory control, the government's wartime weapon against hoarding and a reconversion weapon against the "withholding" of goods from market.

The two other "titles" of the act which should be retained, said Mr. Truman's message, are those which (1) allow the maritime commission to run shipping lines and (2) permit the operation, of ships with less crew and equipment than in ordinary times of peace.

"It is unsettling, both for business and for the general public, to be obliged to wait until the last possible moment for decision by the congress on emergency legislation," Mr. Truman said.

Immediate Action Urged.

"I urge the congress to give immediate and favorable consideration to the limited extension of the second war powers act I have requested."

He reported that "we can now foresee the day when no further use of these powers will be necessary," but said the "effective completion" of reconversion demands the continued use of the powers set forth.

All foods now controlled by the agriculture department would re-

Albanian Tactics Block U.N. Study Of British Charge

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 3.—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council is witnessing the sight of tiny Albania twisting the tail of the British Lion, and there appears to be little the mighty empire can do about it.

It has been three weeks since Great Britain lodged a formal complaint with the council against Albania. In the suit the London government charged Albania with responsibility for sowing mines in Corfu channel, where two British warships were damaged last October with 44 casualties.

Great Britain tossed the case into the hopper with lengthy documents and photographs. Albania and the major powers previously were notified that charges were being filed, admiralty experts were rushed here to testify.

But the case is still untouched because Albania has ignored council requests to send a representative to defend itself. The official Albanian explanation has been that communications are difficult between here and Europe.

Obviously nettled by the delays, the British have made several attempts within the bounds of diplomacy to get the council started. But every move to open the debate without the presence of an envoy from the Soviet-sponsored Albanian government encounters strenuous objections from Russia.

Last Tuesday the council finally agreed to ask the Tirana government for the arrival date of its envoy. No reply was received.

However, Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko told delegates three days ago that he had information from his government that an Albanian representative had departed from Tirana.

APPEAL REJECTED IN EXPLOSIVE HANGING CASE IN PALESTINE

TENSION TIGHTENS AS BRITISH PREPARE FOR EXPECTED VIOLENCE

JERUSALEM, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The Jerusalem supreme court rejected today a plea for an order staying the execution of Dov Bela Gruner. Irgun Zvai Leumi member for whose life the underground organization kidnaped and later released a British judge and banker.

The ruling, which all quarters believed shattered any hope that Gruner would escape the hangman's rope, came while British authorities hastened the evacuation of British civilians preliminary to the adoption of strong measures to restore order.

Court Rejects Plea.

A Tel Aviv attorney asked the court for an order staying Gruner's execution for complicity in an attack on a Ramat Gan police station. The court rejected the plea, ruling the death sentence was passed by a military court and confirmed by the highest military officer, Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker.

Jewish and government officials all expressed belief that Gruner would hang. It was doubted, however, that the execution would take place before the evacuation was completed as scheduled by tomorrow.

It was expected that a 24-hour curfew would be clamped on all Palestine should Gruner hang, and that a declaration would be made that statutory martial law would be invoked should Irgun Zvai Leumi attempt reprisals.

Civilians Being Evacuated.

Army trucks were busy collecting luggage of British families, many of which made their own private arrangements for departure. The army will deliver the civilians to Sarafand or Haifa, the dispersal points.

Other military crews were string-

Senate Decides To Grant Pay Raises In Higher Bracket

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 3—(AP)—The senate today backed up on its "no-pay-raise" rule which it applied last week to state judiciary salaries of $5,000 or more.

The rule was struck out today and pay raise bills for state employees of eduactional institutions, eleemosynary institutions and departments quickly won senate approval and were sent to the house. The pay raise bill for the judiciary had been passed in the senate's final session of last week.

Increases For All

As passed by the senate, the bills provide 15 percent emergency pay increases for the remainder of the current fiscal year on the first $3,600 of state salaries, a 5 percent increase on salary portions from $3,600 to $5,000. No raise would be given on the portion on a salary exceeding $5,000, but the 15 percent and 5 percent increases would apply up to that point.

The senate also passed and sent to the house bills increasing trav-

ADM. MARC A. MITSCHER, FAMED LEADER OF WARTIME TASKFORCE, ATLANTIC FLEET CHIEF, IS DEAD

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 3—(AP)—Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, died at Norfolk Naval Station Hospital early today of coronary thrombosis.

The war-time boss of famed task force 58 which played havoc with the Japanese, died in his sleep at 1:20 a. m. He was admitted to the hospital after suffering a heart attack on his sixtieth bidhday last Sunday.

Dies In Sleep

Rear Admiral W. L. Ainsworth, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, announcing Mitscher's death shortly after 8 a. m quoted a bulletin issued by the hospital as saying that "the special nurse on duty reported that the Admiral had been sleeping quietly but shortly after 1 a. m. he ceased breathing."

Mitscher entered the hospital last week for what a fleet spokes-

GROUND BROKEN FOR LOCAL HAT FACTORY IN BRIEF CEREMONY

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW PLANT HERE GETS UNDER WAY AT EVENT MONDAY

Alex Seigle, president of the Texas Miller Mat Corp., of Dallas, and the Texas Miller Products, Inc., Corsicana, and Joe E. Butler, president of the Corsicana Improvement Corp., wrapped unaccustomed hands around a short-handled spade Monday to upheave the first shovelful of dirt that marked beginning of construction on the company's $195,000 Corsicana hat manufacturing plant.

At the tip of a windswept knoll on North Highway 75, company officials, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the corporation, officials of the construction company and interested citizens including one little girl in red, launched actual work.

Actual Work Begun.

Following the ceremony, A. R. Merriweather, job superintendent, started walking towards a small tool house and a stack of lumber. Men in the clothes that workers must wear prepared to build material and other tool houses as the first step in erection of the big concrete, brick and steel structure that will house the manufacturing unit of the widely known hat making concern.

Dirst movers will start work on excavating for the foundation immediately. John M. Nelson of Marshall, general superintendent of Eckert-Fair Construction Co. of Dallas and Marshall, the contractors, estimated the building would be completed within six to six and one-half months.

E. R. Eckert, president of the construction firm, said the completion date depended on what kind of weather was coming, and the ever-present flow of necessary materials.

Architect at Ceremony.

J. A. Pitzinger of Dallas, the architect, also witnessed the ceremony.

John R. Corley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the short ceremony. He told the small crowd the starting of work was a "very happy occasion, and the realization of the actual beginning of a big project upon which the chamber has worked long.

Mayor John C. Calhoun, who spoke a word of welcome on behalf of the municipality, said "this

Mueller Vacates Post As Manager Local C of C

The Chamber of Commerce was without a manager Monday as E. C. Mueller, whose resignation was submitted several weeks ago, turned over the affairs of the office to the board of directors.

John R. Corley, president, and members of a committee created to select a new manager, were in conference Monday morning discussing several applicants for the position.

Corley said a new manager probably would be secured within 10 days or two weeks. A number of applicants for the position are being studied by the group.

Mueller, who has been manager of the chamber for two years, is entering the insurance field in Corsicana.

In his resignation he had asked that it be accepted by March 1. In a meeting of the directors of the chamber Saturday, which Mueller had requested, the resignation was considered vague as to actual effective date, and clarification was asked.

Effective date was left to Mueller's decision, Corley said. He relinquished his duties as of Saturday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy E. Oden, office secretary, will be in charge pending selection of a new manager.

REP. MASON RENEWS FIGHT FOR ACROSS BOARD CUT IN TAX

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(AP)—Rep. Mason (R-Ill) took up the battle today for a 20 percent across the-board tax slaughter bill, and objected vigorously to proopsals to drop millions of small income persons from the tax rolls.

These millions are becoming "tax conscious", and constitute the greatest bulwark against "federal squandering," Mason declared. Their votes, he continued, were cast last November "against deficit spending and for tax reductions."

Mason prepared his house speech after Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the house ways and means committee announced he is standing firm on his measure proposing a 20 percent slash for each tax payer.

The measure has been under an attack led by Rep. Engel (R-Mich), who told the house last week it would give small tax payers slight relief, but benefit persons with high incomes.

Engel's own measure proposes larger benefits for small incomes, by raising individual exempitons from $500 to $1,000.

SEN. PEPPER RAISES PROSPECT OF MAJOR U.S. POLICY DEBATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), raised the prospect today of sharp congressional debate over American relations with Russia.

Pepper, whose foreign policy stands sometimes has conflicted with that taken by the administration with Republican support, told a reporter he plans to criticize specifically the proposal of John Foster Dulles for economic unification of Europe.

"Mr. Dulles seems to be a spokesman of the Republican party on foreign policy, and I think he's wrong on this issue," Pepper declared.

Dulles, a GOP leader who served as one of the American delegates to the United Nations general assembly, suggested linking Germany's economy with that of France and Belgium.

Little Change Seen In New Cabinet Of Italian Government

ROME, Feb. 3—(AP)—A new Italian cabinet, differing little in political balance from its predecessor, emerged today under the leadership of Premier Alcide de Gasperi after two weeks of political bickering that bade fair to undermine the seven-month-old republic.

The new cabinet consists of seven Christian Democrats, three Communists, three Socialists and two Independents. In the outging government the Christian Democrats held 11 of the 21 posts, but they still hold the premiership and several highly important ministries.

Political disagreement over the selections continued until early yesterday, when the last obstacle was removed after leftist elements had withdrawn their opposition to Luigi Gasparotti as minister of national defense on the ground that he was personally too conservative.

SIXTEEN TEXANS MEET VIOLENT DEATH IN WEEK-END ACCIDENTS

Twelve persons received fatal injuries in Texas highway accidents over the week-end and four others were killed in miscellaneous accidents to bring the total to 16 fatalities.

One person each died from drowning, accidental electrocution, an automobile-train crash, and a plane crash.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS ASKED FOR WORK OF VETS AGENCY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for an additional appropriation of $2,169,114,500 for the Veterans Administration in the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Congressional fiscal experts said that if congress grants the request it will boost total veterans appropriations this year above $9,000,000,000.

Half Cadets To Regain Posts

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Gibb Gilchrist, president of Texas A. and M. College, announced today that only about half of the 176 Cadet Corps officers who resigned early Wednesday morning would be reappointed.

He made the announcement in a statement which said that 57 officers had been reappointed. Their names will be read at mess formation tonight.

Gilchrist's statement read:

"I have today approved appointment of cadet officers submitted by Col. G. S. Meloy, Jr., (commander of the corps) in his reorganization of the corps. Included in the list are 57 of the 179 cadet officers whose resignations were accepted by me early last Wednesday morning.

"Col. Meloy advises that this first list is to initiate his reorganization and that he had not fully examined all of the applications. He still needs 30 to 35 commissioned officers in the corps and will try to get them from the applications."

Building Permits In First 34 Days Of 1947 Top '45 Total

Building permits for the first 34 days of 1947 were $60,145 ahead of those for the entire year of 1945, and lacked only $85,549 of equalling the 1946 total of $347,414.

The reason: A permit totaling $200,000 was issued Monday to Texas Miller Products, Inc., for construction of its new Corsicana plant.

It brought the total for the year to $261,865.

C.I.O. ASSAILS O.T.C. HEAD FOR RENT INCREASE ORDER; NATIONAL REAL ESTATE GROUP WANTS HIKE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, told senators today the testimony of Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming on a general rent increase was "sufficient to call for his resignation" as chief of the Office of Temporary Controls.

Carey referred to Fleming's statement to the senate banking committee last week that while he felt no overall rent increase was justified, he was prepared to order one because OPA did not have a big enough staff to handle individual adjustments.

Carey told the banking committee today that Fleming should have asked congress for an adequate staff, rather than deciding upon a general increase.

In testifying last week, Fleming took full responsibility for a never-issued order for a 10 percent rent increase. The order was quashed by President Truman.

Before Carey testified, the National Association of Real Estate Boards urged the senate group to favor immediate scrapping of rent controls on new dwellings and an "across the board" rent increase on existing units.

From Senator Flanders (R-Vt) came a proposal for a graduated hike in rent ceilings. He announced he has prepared a bill allowing a five percent increase every four months. At the end of 16 months, when the rise was 20 percent, he would abolish ceilings.

DEPUTIES REPORT MANY ISSUES TO BE LEFT FOR MINISTERS IN COMING MOSCOW PEACE TALKS

LONDON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Deputies of the four-power foreign ministers working on German and Austrian peace treaties reported today that many problems would have to be left for the meeting of their chiefs in Moscow next month.

The deputies and staffs, starting a fourth week of work on recommendations to be made to the Moscow conference, said they were everwhelmed by tasks which could not be finished by their Feb. 25 deadline.

The hardest questions appeared to be the many plans for control of German industry, repatriation of war prisoners, reparations, frontiers and the political structure of the new Germany. On none of these major problems has there been anything like final agreement, but there have been clarifications and exchanges of opinion.

Hope that the Russians might disclose this week their views on the withdrawal of allied occupation troops from Austria was expressed by Americans.

GI STUDENTS OVERSEAS

Under the GI Bill qualified veterans of World War II enrolled in foreign universities. Recently complaints have drifted back to this country that the tuition grants and subsistence payments of the students are not coming through. In some instances colleges, among them several at Oxford University, England, have waited more than a year for their fees.

Veterans, dozens of them, are without resources, many of them married and with children to support. They face deportation since there is a general rule against foreign students working for pay. Typical is the case of T-5 Robert Newman of Hannibal, Mo., studying at Corpus Christi College, Oxford, on credit more than a year which he thinks long enough. The ex-soldiers blame U. S. officials in Paris in charge of veterans' studies in Europe. They say the only reply they receive when they or the college write this office is "reams of elaborated forms to be filled out."

This is red tape at its reddest. Uncle Sam, the world's rich man, refuses to pay his children's bills, lets them live in destitution on the largess of other lands. The situation calls for immediate attention from the Veterans' Adminstration, and speedy remittance of tuition fees and subsistence allowances.

TOURING AMERICA

Pennsylvania is erecting 1,000 new historical markers. This is good business for a state, since it attracts tourists, and gives local residents a sense of pride in their own community. America has been backward in advertising its history and its interesting spots. Probably it has been too busy with the problem of growing up to have much time for thought of its past, or even of some of its especially good points.

The war years, which kept people at home, developed awareness of riches close at hand. Americans are going to travel abroad. But they're going to do a lot of sightseeing within their own land, too. States which follow Pennsylvania's lead in letting folks know what points of interest they have are in line with the times.

PEOPLE AS THEY ARE

The spot light of the world is turned on the new Secretary of State, Gen. George C. Marshall. His opinions and ideas as expressed when he was the Army's Chief of Staff became doubly significant. In a speech a few years ago before the American Academy of Political Science, he said:

"We must take the nations of the world as they are, the human passions and prejudices as they exist and try to find some way to secure a free America in a peaceful world."

These are the words of a practical realist who has lived in the midst of eventful happenings and active people. Without cynicism, it shows an awareness of human frailties. Too often the Mr. Fix-its are sentimental theorists. Gen. Marshall's attitude is likely to accomplish more.

MORE THAN HITLER

"The Nazis' program for destruction included the destruction of the possibility of human forgiveness for themselves." This is the comment of Stephen Spender in his new book, European Witness, which is a report of the author's four-month study, mostly in the British zone, of the post-war ideas and attitudes of German intellectuals.

Though sensitive to the catastrophic suffering and destruction in Germany, Spender puts the blame squarely on the German people because Hitler, in Mein Kampf, and other party leaders had made it clear what Nazism was, and the people were eagerly receptive. Germans accepted the developing cruelty toward Jewish and conquered peoples as well as the distortion and pollution that Nazism brought to every phase of the nation's scientific, spiritual and intellectual endeavor.

This basic fact of the wholesale and fundamental guilt of all Germany must be borne in mind as the world seeks ways to re-educate the Reich in order that it may emerge worthy and safe for admittance into the family of nations.

BOMBS INTO FLOWER POTS

As one way of licking the steel shortage, a midwest manufacturer is making use of 20-inch incendiary bomb casings. These are surplus war materials, and after being put through a machine which slits and fashions them into sheets, they are made into ornamental flower pots and other household objects.

Many small gadgets made of steel have been impossible to obtain for such a long period that householders will welcome this variation of the Biblical performance known as the beating of swords into plowshares.

MINISTER AND STRIKE

That must have been an exciting meeting the other day in a Milwaukee minister's home. For over three hours officials of the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers Union and of the Allis-Chalmers Farm Equipment Co., conferred. The strike has been running nine months. The minister is a 37-year-old Methodist preacher, Rev. Ensworth Reisner who had become acquainted with Walter Reuther, C. I. O. president, and other union officials, during his former pastorate at the Ford Memorial Church in Detroit. After the meeting Reuther announced certain proposals had come from company officials that would be submitted to the union's policy committee.

With spring around the corner farmers hope that strike will soon be settled. It would be strange if a young preacher could get men back to work and tractors and plows on the assembly line again where others had failed. It almost looks as if there were some place for the church in present day society, despite the pessimists.

AMERICAN WARDROBE

A statistics sleuth has managed to estimate that 17 billion 500 million dollars was spent by Americans last year for clothes "and related articles." This means an average of $125 per person. Even so, women probably still are saying they "haven't a thing to wear." Men can't complain, though. This represents more money, according to the figure boys, than ever was spent before for wearing apparel by the males.

With all the hold-ups lately, it seems strange that the use of toy pistols which imitate the real weapons are not forbidden.

STRANGE MAN

Strange man, each year he's born anew
And dies within a day or two.
He comes full grown the earth to walk;
At birth can hear and see and talk;
Knows joy and sorrow, weal and woe;
The comfort pity can bestow.
He has a generous, open mind;
The good in all he's quick to find;
If comes to him a bitter thought,
He keeps it hidden, as he ought.
Along the street he'll stop and say,
"Hello," in such a friendly way,
There seems to be no reason why
So good a man so soon should die.

Who is this chap I praise in rhyme?
Well, he's the one at Christmastime
That every year is born anew,
To vanish in a day or two.
Would he lived longer, oft I sigh—
The man I can be when I try.

DISTRICT JUDGE IS ALARMED RELATIVE TO JUVENILE MATTERS

Viewing the present wave of juvenile delinquency in Corsicana and Navarro County with uncommon alarm, A. P. Mays, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district, sounded a warning to parents in particular and the public in general Friday morning.

"I freely admit that I don't know what to do about it," Mays said. "I have tried in the past to be as lenient as possible, and have always preferred to send a juvenile delinquent to the reformatory only as a last resort and when all else failed, but I want the public to know that unless parents begin to supervise their children properly, I have no alternative other than to send some of them to that institution."

He pointed out that he had given each juvenile case coming before him careful consideration and that in some he had given care of the child back to the parents or to a minister or a private corrective institution, only to have the child commit another offense.

"Everyone talks about this juvenile situation, but no one does anything about it," Mays said.

He laid the blame squarely on the type of parents who allow their adolescent children to roam about the streets at all hours of the night, disobey parental authority and live their lives without benefit of discipline or guidance.

Some fo the churches have taken an interest in these cases, and some few ministers have made an effort to help, but the churches as a whole have failedd to take up any responsibility in juvenile guidance, Mays said.

NAVARRO COUNTY REA RECEIVES $50,000 FOR SERVICE LINES

Notification of allocation of $50,000 for construction of electric service lines to rural areas by the Rural Electrification Administration has been received by Osie Cauble, manager of Navarro County Electric Co-Operative, Inc.

U. S. Senator Tom Connally and Claude R. Wickard, REA head, notified W. V. Hull of Dawson, president of the co-operative, that the loan had been approved. Congressman Olin E. Teague of the sixth district also notified officials of the approval.

According to Cauble construction on extensions to service will be started immediately, using the co-operative's own crews.

When completed the extensions will furnish electric service to 500 farm units that do not now have it. Included in the extension are farms in Navarro, Hill, Freestone, Ellis and Limestone counties.

Cauble also announced there is another application for $125,000 pending.

This, if and when allocated, would furnish service to 500 additional homes, but are included in the "long distance" areas—units several miles from the main power lines. This work would be done on a contract basis.

Critical shortages are expected to hamper work on the project that has been approved, but work will continue as the materials are available, Cauble said.

Serious shortages are in copper wire and transformers, Cauble said.

STATE HOME LADDIES TROUNCE RICE HIGH THURSDAY EVENING

The State Home Lads coasted to an easy 57-8 cage victory over the Rice basketeers Thursday night on the Home court. The Lad juniors and the Lassies also copped games from Rice before the feature attraction. The juniors won 20-7, after the Lassies swamped the Rice girls 28-4.

The Lad juniors led all the way in their 20-7 win. They turned on the steam in the second half to widen the margin and then coasted. Milner's 6 points was individual high score for the State Home juniors, while O'Neal's 4 was the best for Rice.

HOTEL, MOTOR COURT RENT CONTROLS OFF AFTER FEBRUARY 15

Lifting of rent control over daily rates charged for transient rooms in hotels and motor courts will begin on Feb. 15, but controls will be retianed on rooms available to weekly or monthly guests under the present quota provisions of rent regulations, according to J. S. Murchison, area rent director for the Corsicana Defense Rental area.

Decontrol of transient rooms in individual hotels and motor courts will go into effect or or after that date as each establishment applies for decontrol and supplies the office with a list of permanent rooms.

Murchison emphasized today that no daily rates in hotels or motor courts will be decontrolled before Feb. 15 and on that date there will be decontrol only where landlords have listed the specific rooms that from then on may be rented only for present weekly or monthly rates.

Rooming houses in the three county area are in no way affected by the action, Murchison declared. Counties in the area are Kaufman, Ellis and Navarro.

Forms for applications will be available for operators of hotels and motor courts at the area rent control office. Further information on the new decontrol measure can be obtained at the office, Murchison advised.

Highway 31 Slab Contract Due To Be Let In March

Surfacing of Highway 31 between Corsicana and Silver City will be included in the March letting of contracts by the state highway department, John R. Corley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was informed Saturday.

This particular stretch of the new east-west route includes 11.5 miles.

The questionable link is that stretch between Silver City and Dawson, measuring 7.5 miles, Corley was informed.

Grading is now being done on that stretch, and drainage structures installed, but weather has delayed work and it is not known at present whether this, too, can be included in the March lettings.

If weather permits, the entire 19 miles will be included in the contracts; if not, the remaining 7.5 miles will be covered by later contracts.

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

(From the Files of The Corsicana Daily Sun)

An unprecedented exodus of Japanese from the West Coast was going on for some unexplainable reason. Boats leaving Southern California were crowded with those going back to their homeland, many taking children born in the United States. Many denied the exodus and said if they moved anywhere it would be to Texas.

Officers of the local IOOF Lodge were announced as Guy Allen, noble grand; T. C. McGraw, vice grand; J. W. Wright, chaplain; W. W. Clopton, secretary; and E. A. Johnson, treasurer.

A silent and taciturn man walked into a Fort Worth Newspaper office and laid four latters on the classified ad desk. "Wait a minute," a girl said as the man strode off. The man turned briefly and said, "Read." Then he walked away quietly. The letters were from the KKK giving money to four charity institutions.

COUNTY POLL TAXES OVER 5,848; 5-YEAR CITY RECORD NOTED

Navarro county poll tax receipts as announced Saturday morning at the office of Arnold A. Armstrong, assessor and collector of taxes, amounted to 5,848 for 1947 with hundreds of mail orders unwritten.

The office remained open until after midnight deadline. The assessor and collector of taxes said he did not get to bed until 3 a. m Saturday.

The city tax office also was busy far into the night.

There were 7,740 county poll taxes issued on Feb. 1, last year, election year, while two years ago, another off-political year, there were 5,354 poll taxes issued on Feb. 1, about 500 up this year over two years ago.

Complete Count Delayed.

Many men of voting age of Navarro county were in the armed forces and absent from the county two years ago.

The complete count will not be available for several days.

Last minute tax payers fed a steady stream into the city tax assessor and collector's office Friday to boost the voting strength to the highest level it has been in at least five years.

Miss Kate Dunn, collector, and her assistant, Mrs. Nell Jones, whose office remained open until midnight Friday to accommodate the tax payers, had not struck a final total Saturday morning.

It was announced that 2,076 poll tax receipts had been issued. Saturday morning's mail, however, brought more and had not been handled before noon.

The total voting strength of the city, exclusive of exemptions, will probably not be known before Monday.

So heavy was the final day's rush that the office exhausted its supply of receipts, and issued makeshift ones which will be redeemed by the office when new forms are received.

500 Pay Friday.

A rush of more than 500 during the day marked one of the heaviest last day payments in years.

The poll taxes already recorded boost the total well above previous years. In 1940 there were 2,312 poll tax receipts issued, but with the war the slump came. Comparative figures include:

1946, 1,954; 1945, 1,506; 1944, 1,481; 1943, 1,035; 1942, 1,455, 1940, 2,312.

Roane H. D. Club

"Planting the Rose Garden" was the program given by Miss Eva Sue Merritt, Navarro county home demonstration agent, at a meeting Jan. 24 in the home of Mrs. Wayne Hatley.

Miss Merritt suggested preparing the soil and have the beds ready before buying the plants. She also explained how the purchaser could determine whether or not the plants were strong and healthy or diseased.

Mrs. H. R. Fluker presided at the business session at which time Mrs. Hatley was elected president to succeed Mrs. Larue Douglas who has moved from the community.

Yearbooks were filled out and two members were appointed to attend a training school on "Our Recreational Leader" at the YMCA Jan. 29.

Ten members, including Mrs. L. C. Graves, a new member, and Miss Merritt were served cup cakes and hot chocolate.

The next regular meeting of the club will be February 14 at the home of Mrs. George Owens.

Mildred H. D. Club.

el allowances from $4 to $5 per day.

A $146,000 emergency appropriation for the state adjutant general's department was also approved by the senate.

In the house, captions were read on 247 house bills filed with the clerk since last Tuesday. More were still coming. Six house committees scheduled organizational meetings.

The house adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow and the senate adjourned until 10:30 a. m.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester submitted to the legislature as an emergency matter the consideration of a supplemental appropriation to increase the personnel of the state service office.

"The termination of World War II has brought home numerous disabled veterans requiring additional and heavy duties to be performed by the Veterans' State Service Office," Jester said, adding that the office if now operating on a deficiency basis.

He did not say how much money would be required.

Introduction of bills continued at a merry clip. Rep. Gordon Davis of Waco presented a house joint resolution which calls for $800,500,000 for payment of bonuses to veterans of World Wars I and II.

His resolution set a figure $200,000,000 greater than he originally had planned, the hike becoming necessary when he decided to include World War I veterans, Davis said.

Miss Lilla Jean Brown left today for the University of Texas, where she will resume her studies after a between-semester visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Brown.

man said would be a "complete and thorough checkup." On January 28 the fleet spokesman described the Admiral's condition as very good."

Condition "Not Serious"

On Friday, Capt. L. E. Mueller, surgeon of the Atlantic Fleet, described Mitscher's condition as not serious and said that Capt. Cecil Andrews, a heart specialist at the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., came to Norfolk for consultation and concurred in the diagnosis of the Admiral's ailment as a heart attack.

Mitscher, soft-spoken but a hard-hitting, determined fighting man, had a personal hand in many spectacular and important actions against the enemy in the Pacific and his admirers claimed that he put tempo of the war against Japan into high gear with his task force 58's first carrier blows at Truk and the Marianas in February of 1944.

In those attacks the navy tested its newly-built carrier power for the first time against strong Japanese strongholds and exploded the myth of their invincibility.

Great War Leader

Mitcher's swift marauding task force had the entire Pacific ocean to the gates of Japan as its stamping ground and his carrier planes smashed vital enemy aircraft plants and chased the Japanese air force to cover while pounding at Tokyo anr vicinity early in 1945.

He was the skipper of the aircraft carrier Hornet, the "Shangri-La" from which Lt. Col. (later Lt. Gen.) James Doolittle launched his Mitchell bombers for the raid on Tokyo and four other Japanese cities April 18, 1942.

From April 1 to July 25, 1943, the period when army, navy and Marine fliers won air supremacy in the South Pacific, Mitcher was commander of aircraft in the Solomon Islands.

Born In Wisconsin

He became a vice admiral on March 21, 1944.

The fleet admiral was born in Hillsboro, Wisc., on January 28, 1887. He attended grade and high schools in Washington, D. C., and was appointed to the Naval Academy from Oklahoma in 1906. After graduation in 1910 he served two years afloat, as was then required by law, and was commissioned an Ensign to rank from March 7, 1912.

In October, 1915, Admiral Mitscher reported to the Pensacola Naval Air Station for flight training and received his wings on June 2, 1916. He had served in aviation since that time.

In the spring of 1917 he reported to the U. S. S. Huntington for duty in connection with catapult experiments. In may 1919, he was pilot of the NC-1 on the first navy trans-Atlantic flight. For that duty he was awarded the Navy Cross.

Hard, Fair Taskmaster

For the next few years he had duty ashore and afloat, winning a reputation as a hard but eminently fair taskmaster.

Shortly before World War II began he was assistant chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, and on October 20, 1941, he commissioned the U. S. Hornet at the Newport News shipbuilding and dry dock company, serving as her commanding officer until June 30, 1942. The Hornet was the "Shangri La" from which Doolittle's planes took off on April 16, 1942, to bomb Tokyo, and four other Japanese cities.

He was in command of the carrier during the battle of Midway, June 4-6, 1942, but was detached in July and assumed command of patrol wing 2, serving until December. He was commander, fleet air on Noumea for a short time, then on April 1, 1943, reported as commander of air, Solomon Islands. For service in this command he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service. "Under his command were units of the Army Air Forces, Navy and Marine Corps Aviation Groups and contingents of the Royal New Zealand Air Force.

On January 6, 1944, he became commander of a carrier division, winning the Gold Star in lieu of a second D. S. M. Under his command the division operated against the Marshall Islands, Truk and Tinian-Saipan Islands, in January and February.

In the spring with the rank of vice admiral, he assumed command of task force 58, famed carrier division. For action in this command he won his third D. S. M., the Legion of Merit, plus Gold Stars in lieu of second and third Navy Crosses.

On July 10, 1945, Admiral Mitscher assumed duty as a deputy chief of naval operation (air), and the following December was ordered to duty as commander, Eighth Fleet, with headquarters in Norfolk. He arrived here to take over his new command on March 1, 1946.

He took command of the U. S. S. Atlantic Fleet on September 20, 1946, succeeding Adm. Ernest King.

During his task force strikes he used to sit on the bridge of his flagship in an easy chair, receiving dispatches and reports and issuing orders in a quiet voice. He never seemed to get excited, officers serving with him then have often said.

As one of the Navy's first aviators, holding the No. 33 place, he was personnlly acquainted with the hazards of over-water flying and during the war he planned and employed all possible rescue methods.

Wolens Brothers Lauded.

The mayor paid tribute to Louis Wolens and his brother, the late Joe Wolens, crediting the Wolens family with doing more than any other man or group of men to bring the factory to Corsicana.

"This city has been paid a very fine compliment with its selection by this company," Mayor Calhoun said. "New York is a long way from here, and there are a lot of sites in between. The fact that you elected to come here for your Southwestern extension is indeed a compliment to this city."

Butler, on behalf of the stock company which raised part of the money for the structure, also paid tribute to the Wolens family, declaring the friendship between them and the company officials was very instrumental in the final site selection.

"We are tickled to death we chose Corsicana," Seigle told the group. "We hope to prove an asset to your city. We are sure we will be."

Other company officials and employes introduced were Ben Parrill of New York, Dave Rogan, Dallas; Tom Keating and Roland Marchand, New York; Barney Mozley, Dallas; Morris Press, Corsicana, general manager, and Mrs. Lucille Couch, Corsicana office manager.

Members of the improvement corporation and the chamber of commerce hailed starting of construction of the 200x200 foot building as the birth of another constant payrool for Corsicana.

The company, which manufactures men's hats for big distributing corporation, has a 10-year lease on the building. Personnel has been in training here for several months.

WAR POWERS

main under restrictions but inedible molasses, used largely for industrial alcohol, would be freed. Only a few of the materials subject to orders of the civilian production administration would be freed, and many of these controls are dead letters already.

Several Phases Die.

Thus, the iron and steel order would die, but steel allocation is now sparingly used; the uranium order would expire, but the atomic energy commission is authorized to take over atomic energy materials.

Controls over building materials (which would continue to June 30 under the act), can be continued until the year-end under the Patman emergency housing act. The chemicals order would be eliminated.

Originally the second war powers act contained 14 titles. Seven have lapsed or been turned into permanent laws; the remaining four,, which would lapse under today's proposals, are largely inoperative or unneeded. They are:

Regulations Would Go.

Title II—Authorizing the condemnation and disposal of private property. Only the rules authorizing disposal by sale, lease or other means remain in force.

Title IV—Authorizing the federal reserve banks to buy government bonds in the open market, without regard to maturity date; a permanent law will be recommended.

There are no more dollar-a-year men.

Title XIV—Authorized the commerce department to turn over to OPA "confidential" reports from business firms. Its extension, said Mr. Truman, "is not necessary."

Emergency Powers Sought.

In seeking blanket powers in time of emergency, Mr. Truman specified that it would be used only "if there is a declaration by the president that such a national emergency has arisen."

"Although I do not anticipate that such an emergency will occur, it is imperative that the government should have the power, during the remainder of the reconversion period, to deal with major unforeseen contingencies of this character," the message said.

Mr. Truman gave up the power to seize strike-threatened industries on Dec. 31, when he proclaimed the end of histitities. The power he now requests—which his aides said might be used in time of a strike affecting a nationwide industry or utility—would serve only to conserve supplies of the commodity affected.

Food Control Urged.

Putting food at the top of his must list for continued controls, the president declared world grain supplies are "still far short of essential needs." Control must be continued to insurde shipments to war devastated nations and to prevent "disease and unrest" in Germany and Japan.

Unless sugar rationing is continued, he went on, speculators would hoard the supply, industrial users would buy more and cut down on household use, and the country's $1,000,000,000 annual sugar bill "might multiply several times."

Import control insures that this country does not purchase more of the world's sugar supply than has been assigned by the international emergency food council. Because of similar international agreements, export and import control over fats and oils was urged.

Rubber Curbs Kept.

Natural rubber probably will be in short supply throughout 1947, the president predicted, and controls over the use of both natural and synthetic rubber are essential.

Mr Truman forecast a progressive decontrol of building materials, but noted that some restrictions will continue to be necessary. The Patman act will provide the authority for these.

"The extremely serious freight car shortage" demands federal allocation of the car-builders' output, he said, and domestic needs may make it necessary to continue limiting the number of automobiles and tractors which each manufacturer make for export.

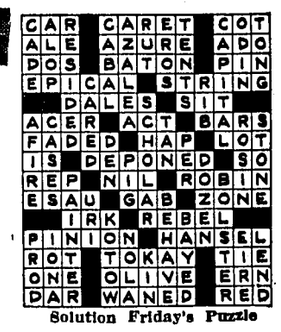

Committeemen to Meet.

HILLSBORO, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Community committeemen of the Agricultural Adjustment programs in Hill and Navarro counties will meet at Frost, Navarro county, Feb. 5.

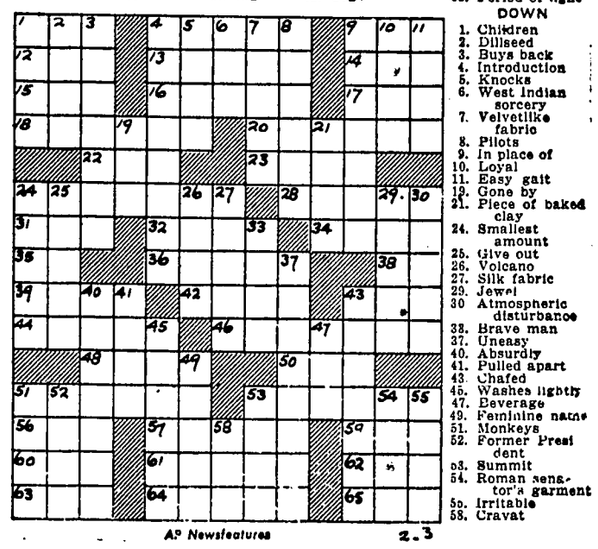

The 1947 cotton crop insurance program will be discussed by Raymond Kinsey of College Station, field supervisor for the AAA program.

Stf. Sgt. Fred Dugger has arrived from Tucson, Ariz., for a visit with his wife, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Gladys Burkhart, at Kinslo House. After a several weeks' visit here, Sgt. Dugger will report to Hamilton Field, Calif., for overseas assignment.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Recovery tendencies, sparked by an early advance in N. Y. Central and assorted rails, prevailed in today's stock market, although profit cashing on the recent sharp bulge restrained many leaders.

Favored carriers added a point or so in the morning in active dealings. The pace subsequently slowed and top marks were reduced in most cases at the close with many pivotals unable to shake off minus signs. Transfers for the full proceedings ran to around 1,400,000 shares.

Gains of 2 to 3 points were shown for Allied Chemical, International Harvester, Eastman Kodak and U. S. Gypsum. In front were N. Y. Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Pacific, Alleghany Corp., Norfolk and Western, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward.

On the offside were Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union "A," Anaconda, Kennecott, Air Reduction, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Southern Railway and Standard Oil (NJ.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Cotton futures turned reactionary in late dealings today, following early strength. Scattered commission house and New Orleans selling was attributed to technical reasons, following steady advance in prices last week. Spot cotton markets were quiet with supplies declining, while the situation in cotton textiles was reported firm.

SEVEN CHANGES MADE IN FOOTBALL RULES; NONE BIG DIFFERENCE

SUBSTITUTIONS MAY BE SENT IN MORE OFTEN; RUNNING SHIFT OUT

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF.

KERRVILLE, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Seven changes will be carried in the football rules book next fall but their application will bring little notice from the fans.

The rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Council wound up its first meeting in Texas yesterday with few important revisions. The major ones were:

Liberalization of the substitution rule whereby each team may send in a player while the ball is dead although time still is in.

Barred the so-called running shift by ruling that a shift play which simulates a regular play will be penalized as a false start.

D. X. Bible of the University of Texas, rounding out a quarter of a century on the committee and in whose honor the meeting was held in this state, said he thought the substitution rule would make for much better football. "It will mean that many boys will get to play who otherwise would not because a coach can put in his "specialist" to meet the occasion at hand through use of this rule," Bible declared.

Chairman William J. Bingham of Harvard said the running shift, which served to pull teams offside, had caused bitter protests in some sections. "In Virginia and the Carolinas feeling is so bitter some of the people aren't even speaking to each other," he commented.

Other rule changes were:

The ball will be moved in from the sidelines after out-of-bounds plays to one-third the width of the field. The rule has been 15 yards but now it will be 53.4 feet—almost 18 yards.

On a try for point after touchdown if the kick is blocked the ball will become dead and can not be run over or passed.

On disqualification fouls, the player will be removed from the game, but instead of a penalty of half the distance to the goal line it will now be 15 yards.

The committee rewrote the rules governing illegal use of the hands and arms for clarification and to tighten up on their enforcement for prevention of injuries.

It also decided that on fouls that occur after the ball has been kicked across the line of scrimmage but not yet touched by a player, penalties except for unnecessary roughness and illegal use of the hands will be inflicted at the point of the foul. For unnecessary roughness and illegal use of the hands the penalties will be from where the ball was put in play.

A committee headed by H. O. (Fritz) Crisler of Michigan will confer with manufacturers of equipment to seek changes that will mean use of softer materials on headgears and pads. This is in the interest of injury prevention.

Bingham said the committee would meet in June or July to consider recodification of the football rules in order to get them in their proper sequence. This hasn't been done since 1929.

W. O. Hunter of Southern California and Bible are retiring from the committee this year.

Williams Signs New Contract With Sox; $60-70,000 Said Pay

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, today signed his 1947 contract—reputedly calling for between $60,000 and $70,000.

General Manager Eddie Collins of the American league baseball champions said that Williams "wrote his own ticket."

Ted himself refused to divulge just what he was getting, but did tell newsmen "It's the most money I ever got."

He was smiling broadly and appeared obviously well satisfied as he emerged from a brief conference with Collins.

LEGISLATURE HIT FOR FAILURE TO SPONSOR FARM-MARKET ROADS

NAVARRO-EUREKA LEADERS REQUEST ROAD BE DESIGNATED

The county commissioners court sounded an impatient note of criticism to the state legisiature today at the regular monthly meeting, decrying the failure of the body to sponsor farm to market road legislation.

"In the primary elections candidates from constable to governor promised relief in the farm to market road program" County Judge L. L. Powell stated.

The subject came about after Mayor Bob Tatum of Navarro and J. A. Bonner of Eureka asked the court for aid in having the road between the two communities declared a farm to market project

"Our school busses can't go over the road in winter and those children who can't go by horseback have to stay home about two and one half months during the year," Tatum said.

Powell explained that the highway commission considered those roads that have a traffic count of greater than 60 vehicles per day be classified as farm to market projects.

Many Roads Classified

"We have approximately 250 miles of such roads in the county. We hope in five to ten years to have each school bus road surfaced. The county needs to obtain funds for this by bond elections.

"That was voted last year," Tatum said.

"We had a 15 cents tax voted, which brings in about $30,000 a year. It costs about $12,000 a mile for new construction. That $30,000 will construct less than three miles of new roads. Then too we would have the engineers salary," Powell explained.

"Maybe the engineer is getting all of it," Tatum said.

"It's going to the contractors," Powell said.

Prior to the request of Tatum and Bonner that the stretch be considered, it was stated that a similar petition had been made last year.

Judge Powell explained to the visitors of the visit of the court to a neighboring county where the rate is 54 cents in comparison to Navarro's 30 cent rate. The county, Powell said, had built 24 miles of new roads, resurfaced 25, and would build 50 miles of roads this year.

The county in the discussion it was disclosed, had a 23 million dollar rendition in comparison with the 21 million in Navarro county.

"Would the two cent gasoline levy bring us up to about that?" Commissioner J. C. McMullan asked.

"A two cent tax would, with the money now coming in, give us approximately $350,000. We now have $140,000 a year," Judge Powell explained.

Another Road Request

The court heard a plea for another stretch of road to be designated as farm to market by Newton Roman. The road in question is from Corbet and would tie in with Highway 31.

"If the state would give us the money we could build the roads for about $5,000 instead of the $12,000 it costs the state. We could install a road program the people would be proud of. We feel there is a waste in local government, but the higher you go in government the greater the waste. We can have less waste than the state government," Powell said.

"The gas money goes to build schools," Tatum said, "but what good are schools if the children can't get to them?"

The court agreed on the vitalness of the road program and stated it felt that roads could be constructed for $3,500 per mile. Judge Powell urged the men to have their constituents to notify their state representatives to vote additional gasoline tax.

Gas Tax Relief

"This will give us relief in the road program. I think the man who uses the road should pay for the road with the gas tax and not vote bonds that will burden the children," Powell stated.

The Judge cited the state of Louisiana, which now has a high gasoline tax rate and the county in which the city of New Orleans is situated, which also has an additional tax.

Roman, in asking the court to write a letter to the district highway engineer, requesting farm to market classification soon, said the condition of the road had caused the community to lose a valuable milk route, the residents can't get to town in bad weather, mail carriers can't get in to the community, and the church is located on the stretch.

The court told Roman the highway department to conduct a traffic count on the stretch and the court would be glad to recommend improvements in line with the results of the count.

Bridge Repairs Sought

Jack Eagle, manager of Chapman Ranch, asked the court to repair bridges to the ranch so that children could be taken to school. He stated that the road was impassable to heavy loads and the school bus could not be used.

Eagle said his firm would continue to maintain the road if the county would repair the bridges. The subject was turned over to Commissioner G. C. Kent.

A. G. Elliott, vice president of the First National Bank presented the court with a bid to be the county depository in answer to an advertisement. The court approved the bid and the bank will be the depository for two years, beginning Feb. 1, 1947.

It was announced by the state board of county and district road indebtedness that bonds 75, 76, and 77 of the Road District No. 12 would become payable on March 1, optional, and the state would advance $805.80 while the county would advance $2,194.20. The bonds are for the Tupelo and Rice communities.

New Deputy Approved

Will Roy Phillips was approved as a deputy in the county clerk's office at a salary of $100 per month. All claims were approved.

A notice was read from the state highway department announcing that bridges on Highway 14 from Richland to the Freestone county line would be widened at a cost of $18,500. The court received a citation to appear in a civil suit in federal district court brought against the Henderson County Levee District.

INTERESTING RECORDS FOUND IN DISTRICT CLERK'S OFFICE ABOUT EARLY CORSICANA FIRMS

By GROVER HEIMAN
Daily Sun Staff

J. C. "Rusty" Gaston, district clerk, is convinced predecessors believed implicitly in letting sleeping dogs lie, lay, or however the saying rambles.

Wielding a vigorous broom, the new official has been delving under cobwebs and dust to come up with ancient volumes that are in no way related to the duties of the office.

Newspaper Subscription List

One of the first finds was a volume labeled "Personal Account Book." No name was forthcoming as to the owner, but a slight bit of detecting came up with the answer. The book was entitled "Subscription List of the Corsicana Independent and Navarro Banner."

The "Independent" and "Banner" were early newspapers in this county, having their bloom of life in the year 1872, just 75 years ago. Connected with both was a talented newsman named. Dan Donaldson, who later became district clerk of Navarro county. The oldest criminal records of the county were written in the fine penmanship of Donaldson.

Hotel Register

Another find was a large, imposing leather bound volume that proved to be the register of Hotel Collin for the first part of 1896. Perusing the pages, it was noted the managership changed from W. G. Lockwood to Marcus M. Collins, and then to J. R. Thompson.

A definite museum piece, the 51 year old register carries the names of guests from all over the nation and a few foreign countries. Separating each page of the register are page length blotters, artfully advertising business houses in the city.

On the masthead of the register was the age old hotel admonition: "Guests without baggage are required to pay in advance."

On the blotter are the following advertisements, artistically arranged in old fashioned type:

Many Advertisers

Dr. T. F. Driskill, dentist, Damon building, on Collin street.

M. Dorenfield, "My Jeweler."

Dr. B. F. Houston, Eye, Ear nose and Throat specialist, North Beaton street over Jacob Allen's store.

First National Bank, James Garrity, president; E. H. Church, cashier; and Joseph Huey, vice president. Capital: $125,000, Surplus: $45,000. Special attention given to collections.

J. E. Whiteselle and Co., Lumber.

E. A. Johnson, druggist, 127 Collin street.

C. A. Benton, plumber and gas fitter. Hotel Collin building. The ad showed an ornate gas light chandalier.

L. H. Lee, house furnishings. 103 South Beaton.

York and Byrd, pianos, organs, and other musical isntruments. 213 North Beaton.

Elite Barber Shop and Bath Room. Six first class workmen, best artists in town, three attendants in the bathrooms. Baths open on Sunday. Johnson and Durham, proprietors.

In the subscription list of the "Independent" and "Banner", it was disclosed that copies were sent all over the state and nation. Those sent to spots below the Mason-Dixon line were always prefaced with "Colonel"

The newspaper had an exchange with other papers all over the nation, some of which are still in existence. Many small towns, such as Calvert, Marlin, Sherman, had two or three newspapers.

E. J. Simkins Was Editor

In the subscription list the name of E. J. Simkins was used in prominent spots above the names. He was the editor of the Banner, compaion paper with the "Independent" Donaldson was publisher of the first newspaper in Navarro county, "The Prairie Blade."

Among the old names carried on the subscription list was C. W. Jester, A. Fox and Brother, J. L. Halbert, Imperial Saloon, Donnell House, Father Chandy, Garitty-Huey, and Co., Alexander Beaton, Gulick, Sutherland, McCammen, James Kerr, L. S. Tatum, and many others.

Dresden School Records

The district clerk and his assaitant, Mrs. Pete Hook, are still dragging ancient volumes from the many hideaways in the file room. Also uncovered is an 1870-80 teachers and student record for the Dresden school and the District 4 school. Teachers were paid $50 a month and classes lasted from two to three months.

An 1890 Cotton Belt Route, Register of Way Bills was found, containing the shipping and receiving of every item from corsets to horses. The personal account book of W. M. Morgan is among the souvenirs and the personal account book of Morgan and Seelig and company, which sold everything from hair pins to harrows to the citizens of Navarro county.

As the cleaning process continues, the clerk and his assistant grow more interested daily. They don't expect to find an old can full of greenbacks, but they do believe there is more museum pieces to be had out of the bewildering accumulation of over 75 years.

CHANDLER HI CAGERS ELIMINATE LADDIES IN MALAKOFF MEET

The Lads from the State Home were defeated in the semi-finals of the Malakoff invitational tournament Saturday, being eliminated, 25-15, by the Chandler basketeers. It was the second defeat the Lad cagers have suffered so far this season.

Inability to sink theirt shots cost the Lads their place in the tournament. Hitting only a mere 3 per cent of their tsoses, the Lads faced a Chandler aggregation that sniped at the basket consistently from outside the foul circle. The Lad defense was as good or better than ever, but their offense failed to function.

The locals started off strong, and tied the count at half-time 8 to 8. Chandler pulled away then, holding a four-point lead at the end of the third quarter and the ten-point margin at game-end.

Carrington's five points was high score for the locals. M. Browning was high point man for the Chandler five with 10, which was defeated in the finals Saturday night by the Malakoff five, 31-21.

The Lads have a tentative arrangement with the Malakoff cagers for a game here next week.

Scoring.

Lads—Lawrence, 1; Jones, 4; Pillows, 2; Phillips, 3; Carrington, 5.

Chandler—M. Browning, 10; Davis, 2; Houston, 7; C. Browning, 6; Terrell, 0.

Tall yellow tapers glamed from three-branch silver candelabra and provided soft illumination for the refreshment interlude.

TIGERS FACE 2 HARD TILTS; BULLDOGS TO CLASH TWICE ALSO

LADS, LASSIES TO BE HOSTS TO DISTRICT "B" MEET TWO DAYS

Navarro county teams, after taking an unmerciful pounding in the first swing of the cage circuit, bow their backs this week and slash back at invaders.

Corsicana Tigers, riddled by injuries in four of six games, hold a lone win over the Indians from Waxahachie to rest on the bottom of the District 10-AA cellar. This week the Tigers tangle with the only two opponents rated in the same class—Cleburne and the Waxy Indians.

Game Here Tuesday.

Cleburne travels east Tuesday night to be the guests of the Tigers in Junior High gym. Rested after a week of inactivity, the locals will be out to avenge a 23-22 loss to the Jackets, one of the most improved fives in the race.

The Indians from Waxy will be hosts to the Tigers Friday night and are aiming to balance the books against the Corsicana quintet. Leading the Indians will be All-District Milt Boatman, a fine goal ringer and creditable floor man.

Navarro Junior College, which salvaged a dismal first round go in the central zone of the Texas Junior College conference by taking a convincing win over Westminster, returns to the hardwoods this week with a brace of home games.

Bulldog Contests.

Hillsboro Junior college, victor in two out of three engagements, comes here to do battle with the Bulldogs in Junior High gym Wednesday night. With a distinct height advantage, the Hillsboro five will rate the nod, but will be expecting a stiff round from the aroused Scarlet and White.

Temple Junior college, which downed the locals by a slight margin in the first round tilt, will come to the Junior High battleground Saturday night holding a slight nod on the basis of the win, but resting in poor light on the basis of a narrow win over Westminster. For the first time during the season, Coach Ken Clark will field his team at full strength.

District B. Tourney.

The final culmination of District 36-B cage play will come to a semi-climax Thursday and Friday nights at State Home school when the West Zone playoff begins. Teams participating in the tournament will be Frost, Blooming Grove, Barry, Emhouse, Purdon, and Dawson. The tourney is to be held at the Lad gym because of the fine facilities. State Home will enter the East zone play at Richland on Feb. 13-14.

Under the present system, the champion and runner-ups in both boys and girls play will enter the district finals. Frost is considered the favorite in the coming series.
